(महाकवि कालिदास
विरचित श्यामला दण्डकम्)

(I ever remember you, O daughter of sage Matanga, fondling a ruby-studded lute, who is "lazy with drunkenness", sporting with charming eloquence, with the splendour of the blue gem of the Mahendra region, and having a pleasing physique.

I bow before you, thou art the sole mother of the Universe, with four arms, having the digits of the moon for ornaments, with elevated breasts, thou art like a saffron sugar-cane, with eyes resembling the petal of a white lotus, and armed with noose, hook and flowery arrow.

O Mother, with dark hue of the Emerald, the daughter of sage Matanga, capable of intoxicating, be merciful to me, the illustrious one, residing in the forest abounding in Kadamba trees (with orange coloured fragrant blossoms). Glory to thee, the daughter of sage Matanga, glory to thee endowed with the radiance of a blue lotus, glory to thee the enjoyer of music, glory to thee the beloved of the Creator.

(From Maha Kavi Kalidasa's Syamala Dandakam, in praise of Sarasvati, the Universal Mother of Learning.)

Preface

There have been persistent suggestions from numerous readers for publication of an Advance Ephemeris listing daily positions of planets using correct Ayanamsa, as there has been so far no such a standard publication. In fact some standard ephemeris using zero Ayanamsa are already in use but the user finds it quite difficult to deduct the Ayanamsa value each and every time, for the various planets. Such an exercise naturally involves a lot of strain and erroneous calculations are more often possible than not. I have been toying with the idea of producing the required work and have now succeeded by the grace of Lord Ganesa and Mother Sarasvati. As a result I have great pleasure in placing before the esteemed readers this publication to meet the urgent demand.

Chaitra Paksha Ayanamsa, popularly called Lahiri Ayanamsa, following the same Ayanamsa value adopted by the Government of India's Rashtriya Panchanga (approved by The Calendar Reforms Committee), considers the year 285 A.D. as the one of coinciding of the two zodiacs, viz. Sayana and Nirayana. The longitudes etc. given infra are based on these calculations and are for 0530 hrs IST or 0 hour GMT (Midnight Nirayana Ephemeris).

By adding the relevant Ayanamsa, to the data given herein, one can arrive at the accurate Sayana positions of the various planets.

The arrangement followed in compiling these tables are quite simple and are easy for reference. The page is of enlarged size and each month's data is on one page only. Longitudes given are Geocentric and True in sign, degree and minute from the Sun through Rahu exactly useful for horoscopic purposes.

On the bottom of each page, longitudes of Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are given as on the 1st of every month applicable to 0530 hrs IST. I have felt it not necessary to give these on a daily basis in the main table as these planets have very slow movements. Also it is not possible to give beginning of Nakshatra, Thithi and such other details as such an effort will only double the already voluminous size of this publication. That would be naturally a straining factor on the costing.

On the top of the page, Ayanamsa quantum is mentioned accurately to the second of arc as on the 1st day of the month as at 0530 hrs IST.

For immediate reference the Nakshatra ruling at 0530 hrs IST is given next to the position of the Moon on a daily basis for all the 7 years.

The reader will no doubt note some special features of this publication. Sign position of each planet is marked in every line of the table. Wherever applicable, retrogression is marked by the alphabet "r" (in lower caps). These will save the botheration of scanning the previous lines for required information. Marking of "r" is stopped when the planet has already direct.

The data contained herein are produced on a computer for greater accuracy. However, a word of caution is necessary. In case of the Moon and its node - Rahu - there may be a difference of 1' of arc which is due to adjustments in seconds. For examples 20° 29" is treated as 20° whereas 20° 31" is 21'. Even such differences are far negligible.

Thus we can without fear say, the accuracy aimed at is 100 per cent. To avoid proof-reading errors, a very special care is taken and it is my fervent hope that I performed my duty to the reader quite faithfully. Yet if there are any lapses, I may be kindly informed so that corrections are implicitly carried out in the ensuing edition.

I am grateful to my friend Sri R. B. Gupta without whose good wishes and support, the present effort would not have taken this shape.

I particularly appreciate the enthusiasm shown by Mr Gopinath and Mr Sudhir of M/s COMPUTYP SERVICES, New Delhi, in composing the tables with extreme care possible and to Mr Deepak for carefully proof-checking. Without the co-operation of these people, accuracy would perhaps have remained a far-cry.

As the reader is already notified, this volume will be followed by another Daily Ephemeris for 25 years from 2001 to 2025 A.D. I hope to place such a volume by the middle of 1994.

Apart from these, we are deeply engaged in producing translations of rare Sanskrit classical literature some of which just remain in the original language only.

These publications should answer the urgency of the times.

I have every belief that the reader would consider this as a standard publication and extend a warm welcome to it.

In the end, I reverentially dedicate this work to my late grand-father Sri Kasi Narasimhachari, Tiruchanur (Andhra Pradesh).
